

July 27, 2007

We've started calling him Bobo, and it seems to fit him better. Bo is such a grown up name. Bobo's such a clown sometimes, that I think he'll always be like a puppy. He's been with us for almost six months, and he's really grown on us.

February 14, 2007

I wanted to let you know that Bo is adjusting well to his new home. Him and Maggie have been having so much fun playing in the 3-4 ft. tall snow drifts that formed in our backyard over the last 48 hours. I wish I had it on videotape because they are hilarious when they are playing together...

July 27, 2007

