

August 20, 2005

Uli has since grown up a lot. He is still a goofball and is full of energy. He'll normally greet us at the front door by jumping up on all fours like a Kangaroo. We have also moved to a new house with a larger backyard, which gives him plenty of space to run around and chase bunnies and squirrels. He loves to go on walks, car rides, and go anywhere we go. He's been a great addition to the family.

August 20, 2005

