

September 2007

Zane is now waiting at the Rainbow Bridge. Thank you to Zane's forever family for giving him a reason to smile and show off his winning personality.

Zane's family writes, "[This is] a picture of Zane the day before he left us. We had no idea it would be Zane's last day running with Elka at the park. What a great dog. He was faithful and true to the last beat of his heart."

September 2007

August 11, 2007

Photo: Happy Zane! Look at that smile

July 15, 2007

I really love Zane. He is already quite attached to Elka and me. He loves to be loved on and returns the favor tenfold. Zane wins over everyone he meets with his mischievous grin... it's really amazing! He just soaks up the attention. Just the other day a neighbor told me, "I don't usually like dogs, but I like Zane!" He is building up quite a fan club.

June 28, 2007

Zane is doing great. He is enjoying his walks and trips to the park with us. He also loves to visit my parents and sisters. He is a big softy who loves the attention from everyone. He has started to come out of his shell and play puppy games with Elka. It is great to watch. She prods him along and gets him to chase after her.

August 11, 2007

